Highlights_

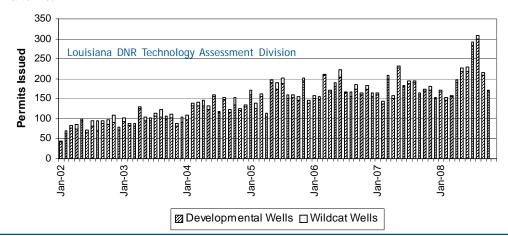

DECEMBER 2008

Concern for the worsening economy and increasing supply are keeping natural gas prices low. Bloomberg said that the U.S. Department of Energy reported last week that stockpiles of natural gas rose unexpectedly amid slowing demand and normal weather. U.S. natural gas production in 2008 is expected to show a gain of 6 percent over 2007. Natural gas demand, over the same period, is only expected to show a gain of 1.1 percent. In 2009, U. S. natural gas production may rise 2 percent, while consumption is expected to fall by 0.2 percent. Natural gas prices at the Henry Hub will probably trade around $6.10 per MMBTU in the next three months, unless there is a long, cold winter.

Note from the Editors

Louisiana Energy Facts is published monthly by the Louisiana Department of Natural Resources, Technology Assessment Division as a public service to individuals interested in Louisiana energy activities. Content includes recent oil, gas and other energy statistics and a brief analysis of current trends.

Louisiana Energy Facts articles provide insight and information on subjects of special interest to our readers, and may announce relevant, forthcoming publications.

These documents are available on the Louisiana Department of Natural Resources, Technology Assessment Division home page: http://www.dnr.louisiana.gov/tad. From the menu, select Energy Data & Reports; choose Louisiana Energy Facts Newsletter. Our current online holdings include issues dating from 1998 through the present. If the issue you are seeking is unavailable, please contact us.
